

#VisitSacramento

Sacramento restaurants need your support. So much of what we love about this region goes back to food – a favorite pizza place, the bistro where you went on your first date, the taqueria that we look forward to on Friday nights. But the hard truth is that due to COVID-19, many of our restaurants won't survive without our help. We can give them a fighting chance by ordering takeout, or Get an inside look at what's new, exciting and classic with the Visit Sacramento Podcast. Episodes feature interviews with the people who make Sacramento a unique place to live and visit. Hear about how Sacramento became America's Farm-to-Fork Capital, get insider information on attractions, and feel like a local when you visit Sacramento.
