COMPANY DESCRIPTION

Dennison & Associates is an independent consulting firm helping associations grow member value, increase their bottom line, and improve internal efficiency by applying professional business analysis and solution design skills to your day-to-day operations.

As a small firm, we provide a highly personalized approach, and truly partner with you and your staff to define what value looks like for your organization and project. Then, we combine expert business analysis, project management, and facilitation skills to deliver the results you expect.

Dennison & Associates is owned by Vanessa Dennison, a Certified Business Analyst Professional, CBAP® with more than 14 years' experience working with associations, both as staff and an industry vendor. She applies proven expertise in industry best practices, facilitation, and business analysis, and a deep commitment to her clients, to deliver superior results.

TESTIMONIAL

While Vanessa immediately helped NASSP improve back office processing efficiency she had a tremendously positive impact on corporate culture by increasing staff engagement, ownership, and cooperation within and between functional departments. Because of her work we now have a successful model for managing staff through changes necessary to support ever evolving business models in the non-profit space.
