

Preceptor Profiles

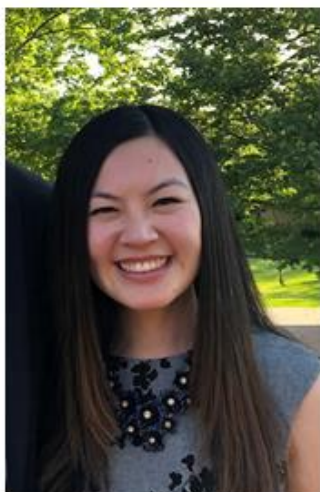

Nan Hong

Position:	Residency Program Director/Clinical Pharmacy Manager
PharmD Education:	University of Illinois at Chicago College of Pharmacy
Post Graduate Training:	Arrowhead Regional Medical Center (PGY1) Board Certified Pharmacotherapy Specialist
Why CPMC?	CPMC takes care of medically complex patients as a tertiary acute care center that makes my job really interesting
Advice for Residency Candidates:	It is OK not to know everything in the beginning. The hospital setting can be very challenging at first, but our excellent preceptors will help and guide you.
Hobbies:	Hiking, Traveling, food

Linda Lee

Position:	Oncology/Transplant Clinical Pharmacist
PharmD Education:	UCSF
Post Graduate Training:	UCSF (PGY1)
Why CPMC?	CPMC offers a tertiary acute care learning experience working with a multidisciplinary team that fully integrates pharmacists to improve patient outcomes
Advice for Residency Candidates:	Come to residency wanting to learn how to make clinical decisions that will directly impact patient care

Elizabeth Chang

Position:	Antimicrobial Stewardship/ID Clinical Pharmacist
PharmD Education:	University of the Pacific
Post Graduate Training:	UCSF (PGY-1) Kaiser Permanente Oakland (PGY-2 ID)
Why CPMC?	Great collaboration between physicians and pharmacists at an institution that heavily emphasizes evidenced based medicine
Advice for Residency Candidates:	Find out if CPMC is a good fit by chatting with our current residents (especially with the ongoing pandemic, determining fit will be really critical to a good year)
Hobbies:	My daughter, exploring different restaurants, exercising (turbokick, zumba)

Erin Samuelson

Position:	Neuro ICU/Med-Surg Clinical Pharmacist
PharmD Education:	University of Kansas
Post Graduate Training:	University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center in Dallas (PGY-1) Board Certified Pharmacotherapy Specialist
Why CPMC?	You have so many unique opportunities to learn here between the complicated transplant patients in the ICU, pediatric and NICU exposure, research pharmacist, and dynamic action you'll engage in with the ED pharmacist. You also get to understand how operationally, pharmacy works inter-departmentally to pass policies and accomplish better patient care.
Advice for Residency Candidates:	Establish your residency project early. The year gets busier as it goes on so the more work you can get done ahead of time, the better.
Hobbies:	Baking bread, walking my dog, seeing musicals and concerts, going up to Sonoma, and traveling

Jua Choi

Position:	Transplant/Oncology/ Critical Care Clinical Pharmacist
PharmD Education:	LLUSP
Post Graduate Training:	Cedars-Sinai (PGY-1) Cedars-Sinai (PGY-2 Transplant)
Why CPMC?	One of the few transplant programs in the Bay Area handling highly complex patients
Advice for Residency Candidates:	Keep yourself well rounded and never stop asking questions!
Hobbies:	Family time!

Kerina Chiu

Position:	Pediatrics/NICU Clinical Pharmacist
PharmD Education:	University of the Pacific
Post Graduate Training:	St Joseph Medical Center – Dignity Health (PGY-1)
Why CPMC?	CPMC is a teaching hospital that encompasses a diverse patient population of adult, pediatrics, and neonatal and provides a variety of clinical services.
Advice for Residency Candidates:	Keep an open mind, step out of your comfort zone, be proactive, and strive to learn as much as you can from your preceptors and residency experiences.
Hobbies:	Basketball, traveling, trying new restaurants

Miranda Ruenroeng

Position: Emergency Medicine Clinical Pharmacist

PharmD Education: University of Maryland

Why CPMC? We get to work with a diverse and complicated patient population with multiple opportunities to collaborate with medical specialties to provide valuable patient care in a great city.

Advice for Residency Candidates: Keep an open mind, work hard, and take advantage of every possible learning opportunity while you're here

Hobbies: Hobbies outside of work: attending live music events/concerts, hiking, traveling, cooking, attending fine arts and culture events throughout the Bay Area, tackling my never-ending must-eat/must-drink Bay Area restaurant list

Sandra Chan

Position: Neonatal/Pediatrics Clinical Pharmacist

PharmD Education: Western University of Health Sciences

Post Graduate Training: Alameda County Medical Center

Why CPMC? We get to take care of a diverse patient population while being located in a urban setting

Advice for Residency Candidates: Enjoy your time in residency- it will be over before you know it.

Hobbies: Skiing, Roller blading, Mountain biking, and spending time with my family

Sen Ngo

Position: Emergency Medicine Clinical Pharmacist

PharmD Education: Western University of Health Sciences

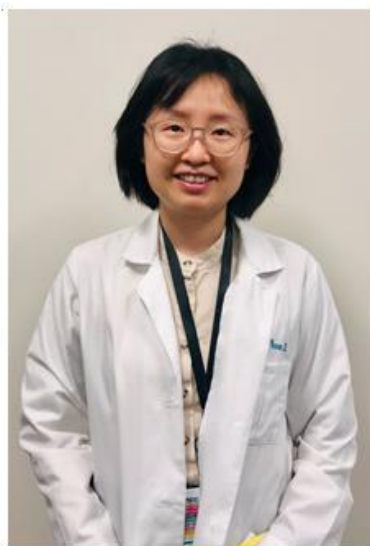

Post Graduate Training: Glendale Adventist Medical Center (PGY-1)
Board Certified Pharmacotherapy Specialist

Why CPMC? Being in San Francisco is so much fun!

Advice for Residency Candidates: Stay Focused. It's one tough year out of your entire life to really strengthen your professional knowledge and skills. There are highs and lows; but there is an end in sight.

Hobbies: Cooking, Traveling, Hiking, Biking, enjoying living life in the middle of a large city and everything that comes with that

Shu Ding

Position: Pediatrics Clinical Pharmacist

PharmD Education: The Ohio State University

Post Graduate Training: CPMC (PGY-1)

Why CPMC? The people at CPMC are great! (Co-workers, providers, staff, patients)

Advice for Residency Candidates: Time management skills are critical to be successful as a resident

Hobbies: Reading

Mason Chiang

Position: PGY-1 Resident

PharmD Education: University of Washington

Why CPMC? CPMC has great preceptors that give us a lot of autonomy and are always looking for learning opportunities. The longitudinal admin portion of the program gives you so much operational insight and keeps you in the know. The program is small, meaning everyone knows who you are and you don't get lost in the shuffle!

Advice for Residency Candidates: Keep your options broad, do your research, use your network, apply to a variety of programs

Hobbies: Traveling, cooking, volleyball

Katharina Voulgaropoulos

Position: PGY-1 Resident

PharmD Education: The Ohio State University

Why CPMC? CPMC offers exactly the learning environment I was looking for to continue my training after graduation: a challenging patient population that necessitates complex treatment decisions, passionate preceptors, and a dedication to furthering the education of pharmacy students from multiple institutions.

Advice for Residency Candidates: Be fully prepared to dive in and learn more than you ever thought possible.

Hobbies: Social distancing parties in the park and the occasional video game session