Seni briefs are excellent and reliable protection for both active people and those with limited mobility. They are ideal for moderate to severe incontinence and can be used for both urinary and bowel incontinence.

Seni Classic and Seni Classic Plus

- Vapor permeable outer layer and non-woven side wings help the skin breathe easily
- Double absorbent core provides high absorbency and the feeling of dryness
- Superabsorbent locks in moisture to prevent skin irritation. Locking urine inside the core also reduces bacterial growth and helps contain odor
- Hydrophobic standing side gathers for better protection
- Elastic leg cuffs ensure perfect fit
- Extra Dry System (EDS) non-woven layer for quick and effective absorption
- Two-way closing system combining hook & loop and adhesive allows multiple refastenings without risk of tearing the outer layer
- Wetness indicator helps caregiver know when changing is necessary
- Not made with natural rubber latex

Seni Super, Seni Super Plus and Seni Super Quatro

- Vapor permeable outer layer helps the skin breathe easily
- Double wetness indicator helps caregiver know when changing is necessary
- Superabsorbent locks in moisture to prevent skin irritation. Locking urine inside the core also reduces bacterial growth and helps contain odor
- Hydrophobic standing side gathers for better protection
- Elastic leg cuffs ensure perfect fit
- Elastic elements at the waist, front and back together with double elastic combi-tapes ensure a better adjustment of the briefs to the body
- Extra Dry System (EDS) non-woven layer for quick and effective absorption
- Double absorbent core provides high absorbency and the feeling of dryness
- Not made with natural rubber latex

Seni Super are ideal for moderate to heavy incontinence
Seni Super Plus are ideal for heavy to severe incontinence and overnight protection
Seni Super Quatro are ideal for severe incontinence and overnight protection

Shaped pads are perfect for both active and immobile people, promote skin breathability, and are discreet and easy to change.

- Designed without side wings clinging to the hips for freedom of movement and increased discretion
- Wear with supporting pants or normal underwear to ensure a perfect fit
- Double absorbent core provides high absorbency and feeling of dryness
- Superabsorbent locks in moisture to prevent skin irritation. Locking urine inside the core also reduces bacterial growth and helps contain odor
- Vapor permeable outer layer helps the skin breathe easily
- Hydrophobic standing side gathers for better protection

Elastic supporting pants for Seni anatomically shaped pads.

- Side seams on the outside prevent from skin irritation on the hips
- Optimal fit to the body
- Soft microfiber legs minimize pressure
- Multiple use – reusable and washable

Hygienic underpads are designed as additional protection for keeping bed and bedding clean.

- Absorbent core made of cellulose pulp, with superabsorbent microbeads for extra protection in Seni Soft Super Dry and Seni Soft Classic Dry
- Soft non-woven surface for comfort
- Outer layer made of impermeable anti-slip film prevents from leakage and keeps the underpad in place
- Perfect for extra protection when changing briefs
- Side wings (on Seni Soft Super with Wings) fold under mattress to secure the underpad

Anatomically shaped inserts are perfect as boosters to be put into other absorbent products to extend their use. A practical solution for people with urinary and bowel incontinence, as the insert soiled with stool can be removed leaving the primary absorbent product for further use.

- Without the insulating backsheet
- Can also be used in some catheterized patients also experiencing bowel incontinence

Note: Do not use as an independent product in case of loose stool or in urinary incontinence.

Seni Care – proper skin care
Elderly patients – particularly those with limited mobility – often face lowered immunity combined with skin in prolonged contact with irritants. Everyday hygiene is critical in reducing the risk of infection. The Seni Care line of skin care products is specially designed for the care of sensitive skin exposed to irritant factors.

more than products

Publishing activity

We provide information about incontinence and general principles of long-term care in handbooks and other informational materials published in multiple languages.

We also participate in joint publishing projects addressing topics such as chronic illness, drug therapies, care and rehabilitation.

Conferences

We organize many training sessions, workshops and conferences. Foremost among these activities is the prestigious International Long-Term Care Conference, drawing over 1000 participants each year from all over the world who work with chronically ill, disabled and elderly people.

www.ltc-congress.eu

Training

Our long-standing cooperation with the long-term care and social assistance communities helps us identify the educational needs of professional caregivers.

We respond to these needs by organizing training programs for staff, managers and nurses. We even went one step further and opened Post-Secondary Schools for Medical Carers who want to become professional caregivers.

We run and support educational campaigns in countries where issues associated with personal hygiene, senility, disability and chronic illness are still taboo.

Optimization

Seniomatic.net is an optimization tool for residential facilities that makes the purchase of absorbent care products easier, more efficient and more cost-effective.

SeniControl App

The SeniControl app is a smart tool that helps identify the most appropriate incontinence product.

Supporting informal caregivers

In today's aging society more and more people require frequent or constant care. Those who take care of disabled, elderly or other dependent family members at home often struggle to cope with this enormous responsibility. TZMO believes it is critical to provide support to these caregivers. Through the "We can do it" project, Seni uses workshops, video tutorials and free handbooks to make everyday homecare easier on the caregivers.

Together we change the world

Ordinary sport for extraordinary people...

Since 2001, the International Soccer League for Intellectually Disabled SENI Cup has been gathering people who love playing soccer and, despite their intellectual disabilities, are able to play at an international level. Teams compete in regional qualifying tournaments in order to advance to the Grand Final in Poland. The idea is to integrate, change social attitudes and break down barriers. SENI Cup makes it all real.
