Midwestern University provides you with an

Outstanding Education

At Midwestern University, we invest in our students through:

ACADEMICS

Spending more on instruction than other graduate healthcare institutions

RESEARCH

Investing more in research than our peer group

TECHNOLOGY

Providing state-of-the-art facilities and current technology

At Midwestern University, we provide the resources for you to be “Day One Ready” upon completion of your degree. The numbers tell us that Midwestern University spends more on instruction per student, invests more in research opportunities for students, and our graduates have better outcomes in board scores, residency and job placements, and salaries. Consequently, Midwestern also has one of the lowest student loan default rates in the nation compared to other graduate schools.

Academics

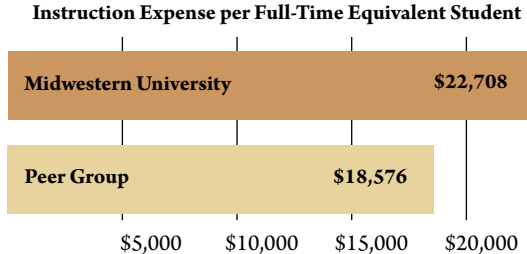

Midwestern University is student-oriented at every level. We invest in the success of our students and spend more per student on education than other graduate healthcare universities. As a Midwestern University student, you directly benefit from our comfortable, secure campus environment. Tutoring, mentor programs, recreational and wellness opportunities, technical support, and facilities are all targeted toward providing our students with the resources they need to pursue a well-rounded education. In addition, our faculty and staff work tirelessly to create an atmosphere of collaboration rather than competition for our student body.

Investment in Instruction

Midwestern University invests in research not only to advance scientific knowledge, but to provide our students with the opportunity to develop research and collaborative skills. As a student, you will have ample opportunity to be part of the team creating knowledge by working closely with faculty researchers and fellow students on groundbreaking projects.

Why is a commitment to research important?

- To recruit and retain excellent faculty.
- Encourages faculty to be current in their field of knowledge and therefore be better teachers. Midwestern's philosophy is: The more time and money faculty have to devote to research the better faculty they will be for our students.
- Create opportunities for students to obtain research experience while at Midwestern.

Superior healthcare education is what we do at Midwestern University. We ensure your success by providing the best faculty who focus on preparing their future colleagues to lead the way in 21st-century healthcare practice.
