

Simulation Competition

The Simulation Competition (SimComp) is an event designed by ACOM to prepare students to compete in the national SimChallenge competition. Each team is presented with an emergent clinical scenario, which requires medical knowledge, clinical skills, teamwork, communication, and calm nerves to overcome the challenges. One ACOM team advances to the national competition each year. ACOM has risen to success through its students' participation in simulation competitions beyond the College, earning recognition on both national and international stages.

The SIMps win AMSACon2021 Virtual Patient Challenge

ACOM is not new to the AMSA Virtual Patient Challenge. During last year's challenge, ACOM's team Cotard's Delutionals won the inaugural title, making this ACOM's third national title along with the international title received in Paris in 2017.
