Are your key employees retiring or do you have a need for skilled workers? The Beginning Farm and Ranch Manager Apprenticeship Program provides a structured pathway for someone with potential to grow into a key member of your operation. Apprentices can be a current employee who has the potential to take on more responsibility but needs more training, or, we can connect you with pre-screened, qualified candidates who are hungry to learn from your experience.

Farmers provide on-the-job training to develop skills, and we secure relevant coursework to augment their knowledge. This includes fundamental ag production classes and training in leadership and management. All of the coursework is online and a bilingual curriculum is coming soon. The cost to you? Nothing more than hiring an employee. We pay for all education fees and tuition.
